DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's arguments filed 06/09/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The rejections follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 or § 103

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 16, and 20-24 and 26-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by Kennedy alone, or in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Kennedy in view of "Pontoon" as described in Scarne's Encyclopedia of Games.

The patent to Kennedy, UK Patent GB 2,106,685 B, discloses a method of playing a gambling device game. The game provides a gambling device, Fig. 1 comprising a coin acceptance 5, computer controls 8 and game play means, Figs. 3A-3C, 4 and 5 interconnected to a power supply, Fig. 4. To play Kennedy's gambling device, coins are inserted to activate the gambling device. A base video slot machine 4 is played. If two reels match, the player wins a payout in the normal way, if all three reels match the player wins another payout, page 1, lines 98-104. Thus, it is inherent to provide a first payable listing the two payouts above. If the player achieves one of the two results above, the player is paid according to the payable. If a predetermined combination of symbols is achieved, all three reels match, in the base video slot machine, the player may elect to play a secondary video game and activate the secondary video game, page 1, lines 104-109. The secondary video game may be the game "pontoon", page 1, line 116-130. Pontoon is a form of blackjack, see "Pontoon" in Scarne's Encyclopedia of Games. In the "pontoon" game, cards are dealt to a player hand and to a dealer hand. The player wins if the player has a higher point score than the dealer's point score, thus the player is paid according to the comparison of their point scores. When a player has a natural and the dealer does not, the dealer pays that player double the amount of his bet.

"Pontoon", as described in Scarne's Encyclopedia of Games, also has different payoff amounts for winnings with each different possible point score. Scarne's recites "if a player has five cards and his total is 21 or under, he collects double his bet; with six cards totaling 21 or under, four times his bet; and so on, doubling for each additional card", see page 286, col. 2 under "Bonus Payments". The claimed "different possible point scores" may be broadly interpreted as the number of cards in a player's hand totaling 21 or under. In view of such teaching, it would have been obvious to provide to Kennedy's gambling device, a pontoon/blackjack payable listing different payoff amounts for winning with each different possible point score. This modification would have provided more winning payoff hands, thus giving the player the perception of having more chances at winning, and thus making Kennedy's game more attractive.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. Claims 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kennedy as applied to claim 16 above, and further in view of Webb.

The base video slot machine in Kennedy's gambling device has three reels or displays 4 for displaying three reels. Winning combinations include "two reels match" (pair), and "all three reels match" (three-of-a-kind). The Examiner takes the position that these combinations are broadly poker hand rankings.

The patent to Webb teaches that it is known in the video slot machine art to play a three-card draw poker game on a video slot machine, see Fig. 7. In view of such teaching, it would have been obvious to substitute the three-card draw poker game of Webb for the three-reel slot machine game of Kennedy. This modification would have attracted more poker players to Kennedy's game.

Response to Arguments

5. The Applicant has argued that "Pontoon" as described in Scarne's has a payout that depends upon the number of cards the player holds. However, the claims as presently amended teach a game in which the payout to the player does not depend upon the number of cards the player holds, nor upon the total pips (points) of the cards of the dealer. The present invention teaches a bonus 21 game in which the payout depends upon the point total of the player's cards. Thus, Pontoon does not disclose the aspect of the present invention.

6. The Examiner takes the position that in "Pontoon" if a player holds a natural and the dealer does not, the dealer pays that player double the amount of his bet, see paragraph labeled "4. Natural" in the second column of page 286 of Scarne's. It is inherent in blackjack that a natural has a point total of 21. Thus in "Pontoon" winning players are paid according to point total.

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

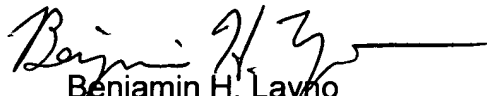

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
